

Camp Sunshine's Medical Director, Andrew Eichenfield, Named One of New York's Best Doctors

New York Magazine, June 19, 2006 –Castle Connolly Medical Ltd., a New York research and information company, publishes an annual guidebook, Top Doctors: New York Metro Area. The list includes those whom Castle Connolly has determined to be the top 10% of the region's physicians – more than 6,000 in all. For the past nine years, Castle Connolly has been providing New York Magazine with a shorter version of the list for the magazine's "Best Doctors" issue (20% of the top 10%).

To choose the doctors, Castle Connolly conducts a peer-review survey by sending out 12,000 nomination forms to medical professionals in New York City, Westchester County, Rockland County, Long Island, and portions of New Jersey and Connecticut. The participants are selected at random and include board certified doctors; physicians previously acknowledged in Castle Connolly's annual guidebook; and, from every hospital in the area, the president or CEO, the VP of medicine, and up to eight chiefs of service in departments from pediatrics to surgery. Recipients are asked to nominate those doctors who, in their professional judgment, are the best in their field and related fields.

Camp Sunshine is proud to announce that its Medical Director, Dr. Andrew Eichenfield, also Director, Clinical Services & Assistant Clinical Professor, Columbia University Medical Center, has been included in this year's list of 1,358 physicians in his specialty - Pediatric Rheumatology.